

Among other species on the wing with humiliata were a few Monochroa tenebrella (Hübner.), Epiblema uddmanniana (Linn.), a Dichrorampha sp. close to flavidorsana Knaggs and a ♀ Coleophora gryphipennella (Hübner.), gen. det. S.E.W. A worn specimen of Choristoneura hebenstreitella (Müll.) was also found sitting on a hawthorn leaf. — S. E. WHITEBREAD, Hofackerstr. 7, CH-4132 MUTTENZ, Switzerland.

NYMPHALIS ANTIOPA (L.) IN NORFOLK, AUGUST–SEPTEMBER, 1976. — Not since 1872 has there been such a notable influx of Camberwell Beauty butterflies as has occurred in Norfolk this year, following a similarly hot, dry summer. First reports came from Wells and Weybourne on the north Norfolk coast, 21st August, and during the week following further examples were spotted at Wiveton, Blakeney, High Kelling, East Runton, Holme, Sea Palling, Winterton, Caister, Great Yarmouth, Burgh Castle, Horning and on the north part of the Suffolk coast at Pakefield, Reydon and Southwold. In the following week specimens were observed again on the coast at Wells and Sheringham, while there were inland records from Honing, Tacolneston, Horstead and Surlingham. In addition, single specimens were noted at Larling and Thetford in the Breckland area. The butterflies were seen associated mainly with rotting fruits (apples and plums and ripe blackberries), while one was attracted by red gooseberry wine in the process of bottling. In two instances the flowers of Buddleia proved an attraction and one insect came into a house while the occupiers were at breakfast. — Dr. E. A. ELLIS, Wheatfen Broad, Surlingham, Norfolk, 8.ix.1976.

NYMPHALIS ANTIOPA (L.) IN 1976.—In the Readers' Letters columns of The Times (31.viii-4.ix) are recorded 20 sightings of the Camberwell Beauty, most of which are for August. The earliest of these it seems is of a butterfly seen on 18th July at Gardie on the Island of Brassay, Shetland. Two other July sightings are for Petworth, Sussex and Godalming, Surrey. Elsewhere the insect was observed near Alstonfield, Dovedale; Stiffkey Meads, Norfolk; Guildford (two sightings) and Richmond, Surrey; Harrold, Bedfordshire; High Wycombe, Bucks.; Little Hadham, Herts.; Lynmouth, Devon; Sandwich and Walmer, Kent; Skipton, Yorks.; Snape, Suffolk; Gardenstown, Banffshire; Colchester and Beeleigh, near Maldon, Essex; and Gloucester. — J.M.C.-H.

NYMPHALIS ANTIOPA (L.) AND OTHER IMMIGRANTS IN THE EASTBOURNE DISTRICT IN 1976. — A Camberwell Beauty was caught by Mr. Mark Parsons at King's Avenue on 23rd August. Two Colias croceus (Geoffroy) have been seen here: the first was on the Rodmill Estate about 6th August, and the second in Tutts Barn Lane about 27th August. On 1st August I saw a single C. hyale (L.) (or it may have been C. australis Verity) flying in King's Drive. — MARK HADLEY, 7 Beverington Close, Eastbourne, Sussex, BN21 2SB.
